Open the package and in the folder 'AGPPack' select setup, right click, properties, compatibility, marck win xp and apply, close and run this setup and will install the AGP drivers.. But the good notice for people that has sis m760gx and other drivers like this is that the AGP(accelerated graphics port) can be intalled!!!Use the package from sis,i have a acer aspire 3000 and i download the package from the page of drivers of ACER.

The MI-DC1300, MI-DC3000, and MI-DC5000 are digital cameras designed to be used with both compound and stereo microscopes, producing clear images with very good contrast and color.. Also noted before was problems with the 2010 UniVGA3 release -- your original suggestion -- but I can vouch for the 2008 release and the 2005 release from Acer, with the caveat that Device Manager must be used to update the driver.. Thanks again for your input I install windows 8,i have acer aspire 3000 with sis m760GX,the driver generic that microsoft include on windows 8 is not bad but itry to intall the drivers original and the drivers for the vga cant be installed because the monitor says that dont is plug and play,in xp it was plug and play,i dont understand..
